

Before this interview,
I had never heard of QA practices.

Testing is a crucial part of software development.

Code review is not always necessary
in software development.

Automated workflows are an essential part of software development to ensure the quality of software.

I strongly believe that neglecting
QA results in more defects.

Investing more in QA equals lower maintenance cost in future.

- Strongly agree
- Somewhat agree
- Neither agree nor disagree
- Somewhat disagree
- Strongly disagree

10

0

10